Sydney Water Corporation Appoints Comdain Infrastructure to the Network & Facility Renewals Program Delivery Contractors' Panel

Comdain Infrastructure ("Comdain") is excited to announce that it has been appointed by Sydney Water Corporation (Sydney Water) to the Network & Facility Renewals Program Delivery Contractors' Panel for an initial five year term commencing 1 July 2013. Comdain, along with other panel members, will be required to deliver $800m of infrastructure projects (out of the overall $1.7b program) over the next 4 years.

Comdain was appointed to the Delivery Contractors Panel following a comprehensive and competitive market tender process and brings with them extensive knowledge and experience delivering capital works programs on Australian water and wastewater infrastructure. Comdain Chief Operating Officer, Jim Gaha said: "The selection of Comdain to the Sydney Water panel is great recognition of Comdain's growing reputation and market presence. The business is excited to be establishing a long term relationship with Sydney Water and is looking forward to delivering many projects over the coming years."

Comdain is committed to partnering with Sydney Water to deliver innovation and improvements in the delivery of water services to customers in its network distribution area and to enhance Sydney Water's reputation. Comdain and Sydney Water will work collaboratively to ensure a consistently high level of appropriate services to all stakeholders.

The commercial framework adopted provides a collaborative working relationship as it aligns the risks of the parties, supports cost transparency for Sydney Water whilst delivering quality construction services to Sydney Water's assets. A key performance indicator structure has been designed to incentivise Comdain's continuous improvement philosophy.
